

THE NYCITY SLICKERS 2014 HIGHLIGHTS

2014 had the NYCity Slickers on the move from one continent to another as they traveled from their New York City home base to Norway. In September, they embarked on a 2 week tour to Norway sponsored in part by the U.S. Embassy in Oslo, the Nordkapp Film Festival, and the Finnmark Fylkeskommune. The tour kicked-off the North Cape Film Festival and included sold-out concerts at Perleporten, Klimpt Live, Kampen Bistro, Bryggerhuset Syd Halden and a gospel concert in Honningsvåg. In addition to their tour concerts, the Slickers gave workshops on bluegrass/Americana roots music culminating in a concert with the Honningsvåg Blandakor Choir and Finnmark Opera Company.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ...

“Venue: The North Cape Film Festival. Latitude: 71 degrees North . NYCity Slickers fired up the crowd from the first bar, like an in-door Aurora Borealis, and we all went through the roof. And they went on to conquer and rock Norway. Please come back ya’hear?” - Morten Wetland, former Norwegian Ambassador to the UN

“NYCity Slickers toured Norway September 2014, playing sold-out clubs and participating in workshops with Norwegian musicians and music students. The tour highlighted common cultural roots and strengthened people-to-people bonds. U.S. Embassy Oslo was proud to be a co-sponsor of the NYCity Slickers’ tour, helping Norwegians in enjoying some real Americana.” - U.S. Embassy Oslo

“The Norwegian audience loved the NYCity Slickers from the first gig in Honningsvåg. The band hit it off at Perleporten live club with their unique, head-on bluegrass music, New York City style, and people reacted like crazy, danced, sang and totally enjoyed the music. The New York based band connected immediately with the locals of the northern town, and people showed up everywhere they played, like in the church of Honningsvåg, where the Slickers gave a touching gospel concert. The celebrity culture- and political editor of Norwegian daily Dagbladet, Marie Simonsen, put it this way: If the NYCity Slickers played regularly in the church, it would be packed every Sunday. The word spread from north to south on social media in Norway, and it was sold out houses everywhere they played, in Honningsvåg, Oslo, Halden and Lillestrøm.” - Ingvild Jensen, Reporter, TV2 Norway

“We, the staff and our guests, had a great time together with you on the concert at Klimt here in Lillestrøm that ended your Norwegian Tour 2014. Everything was great. It started with great communication before the concert, the band showed up on time, the soundcheck went smoothly and the show you put on was awesome. After the show many of our guests responded with likes on Facebook and many are asking when you will be back. And I believe some of the guests even have tried to see you in New York. All the best to you and we are looking forward to seeing you in Lillestrøm when you hopefully will be back in Norway!” - Tormod Johansen, CEO Klimt
